GARET BAILEY

Garet Bailey was 8 years old when the doctors discovered a tumor in November, 2006. In January, 2007, the doctors removed the tumor. In August, 2008 Garet was diagnosed with Fibromatosis of the left thigh. The doctors removed a second tumor and Garet underwent chemo treatments which made him weak and he also experienced pain & numbness in his leg. Fibromatosis has a high reoccurrence rate because it is almost impossible to remove it all and there is scar tissue from the last time to deal with it. This is clearly a very tough time for Garet and his family. We need your help!
